Introduction

Background and objectives of the research

Since 2005, Creative New Zealand has conducted research to measure New Zealanders' engagement with the arts. This includes attendance and participation in different art forms, as well as wider attitudes to the arts. The research comprises two separate surveys (one of adults aged 15+; and one of young people aged 10-14 years).

This report presents findings from the adult survey on public attitudes, attendance and participation in the arts in the Taranaki region. The findings are compared to all New Zealanders (aged 15+).

The surveys are repeated every three years. The research is used in several ways. It provides:

- Vital insights for Creative New Zealand, selected agencies and arts organisations about the national levels of cultural engagement over time
- Stories to advocate for the arts
- Practical up-to-date data that arts organisations can use to develop marketing programming and income generation strategies.

The arts is split into six different art forms, and attendance and participation is measured for each:

- Craft/object art includes things such as uku (pottery), furniture, glass, adornment (such as 'ei katu, tā moko and jewellery), embroidery, fivaevae, woodcraft, spinning, weaving or textiles.
- Literature or literary arts includes spoken word, poetry or book readings, literary festivals or events, writing workshops, and personal creative writing (eg poetry, fiction or non-fiction).
- Ngā Toi Māori (Māori arts) are the works of Māori artists across heritage and contemporary artforms. This includes, but is not limited to: whakairo (carving), raranga (weaving), kanikani (dance), tuhinga (literature), puoro (music), whakaari (theatre), kai mā te whatu (visual arts and crafts), digital Māori arts, Māori arts and cultural events (Hui Ahurei, Manu Kōrero), inter-arts and media arts.
- Pacific arts are the works of Pasifika artists across heritage and contemporary artforms. This includes but is not limited to: craft/ object art (eg fivaevae, tapa), dance (eg Tongan tau'olunga, Tokelauan hiva), literature, music, theatre, visual arts, digital Pacific arts, Pacific arts and cultural events, inter-arts and media arts.
- Performing arts includes theatre (eg comedy, drama, musical theatre, fale aitu, circus, theatre for children, and karetao), dance (eg haka, Pasifika dance, hip hop and ballet), and music (eg contemporary music gigs or performances of choirs, orchestras, and taonga puoro).
- Visual arts includes things such as drawing, painting, raranga, fivaevae, photography, whakairo, sculpture, print-making, typography and film-making.

'Attendance' covers these experiences in the last 12 months:

- Seeing craft and object artworks at an exhibition, festival, art gallery, museum, library or online.
- Attending spoken word, poetry or book readings, or literary festivals or events.
- Seeing any artworks by Māori artists or going to any Māori arts or cultural performances, Toi Ahurei, festivals or exhibitions.
- Seeing artworks by Pasifika artists or going to any Pasifika cultural performances, festivals or exhibitions.
- Attending performing arts events.
- Seeing visual artworks at an exhibition, festival, art gallery, museum, library, cinema or online.

'Participation' is defined as :

- The active involvement in the making or presentation of art in the last 12 months.

Research approach

112 ONLINE INTERVIEWS

...with adults aged 15+ living in Taranaki region

Method

For the last three survey waves (2023, 2020, and 2017) the survey has been conducted online¹.

The questionnaire was refreshed in 2023 to better reflect how New Zealanders value the arts; eight new attitudinal statements were added to the survey. Verian conducted qualitative research (reported separately) to guide this refresh.

Trend data

Trend data is shown for 2017, 2020 and 2023 for key metrics, and for 2020 and 2023 for all other measures.

FIELDWORK DATES

30 October – 20 December 2023

Sampling

Online panels were used to achieve a representative sample of residents in the Taranaki region. Quotas (i.e. interviewing targets) were set by age within gender.

Weighting was also applied to ensure the final age by gender profile is representative of the Taranaki region population aged 15+.

At an all New Zealand level, ethnicity quotas were set and post-fieldwork weighting by ethnicity was carried out.

In 2023, Disabled People's Organisations shared the survey with Deaf and disabled people in their networks to increase the number of Deaf and disabled respondents.

NATIONAL COMPARISON

Findings are compared to all New Zealanders (6527 interviews)

Significance testing

There is a margin of error associated with any survey sample. Based on a sample size of 112, the margin of error is up to +/- 9.3 percentage points (at the 95% confidence level).

We have used statistical tests to determine:

- Whether any differences observed between 2023 and previous survey waves are statistically significant. This is indicated on charts by triangles.
 - △▽ = significantly higher / lower than 2017²
 - ▲▼ = significantly higher / lower than 2020
- Whether any differences between the 2023 survey findings for the Taranaki region and the New Zealand sample are statistically significant. This is indicated on charts by dark grey arrows.
